Cargo champions take centre stage @ICA 2025

The spotlight at the Awards ceremony shone on the finest in the air cargo and logistics sector who were being recognised and applauded for their excellence, resilience, and innovation. The India Cargo Awards brought together leading airlines, cargo operators, freight forwarders, and logistics players, celebrating their excellent contributions in driving growth and strengthening India's position in the global supply chain.

he India Cargo Awards 2025, which took place recently in New Delhi, celebrated and honoured the hard work and contributions of industry stalwarts. Known as the 'Oscars of the industry,' the Awards, now in their 10th year, united leaders, innovators, and stakeholders from across the sector.

Chief Guest, Piyush Srivastava, Senior Economic Advisor, Union Ministry of Civil Aviation, said, "The Awards inspire us to perform, reform, and transform. I appreciate the development of community systems, such as iCLASS at Mumbai Airport, alongside the govt's broader logistics initiatives and NLP. EoDB remains a priority, as do reforms such as removal of free streaming of TP cargo last year. Today is about celebrating achievements, and I extend my best wishes to all the winners and contributors."

Pankaj Kumar, Joint Secretary, DPIIT, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, GoI, said, "At DPIIT, our endeavour is to bring stakeholders of the logistics ecosystem onto a common platform through technology, policy measures, and regular industry interaction. It is important to recognise that the real contributors of India's logistics growth are the private players - CTOs, logistics providers, and warehouse operators, among others. The government's role is to simplify regulations, drive policy reforms, and extend financial and non-financial support. I assure you my department will continue to work for an enabling environment where the sector can thrive and contribute to India's growth story."

SanJeet, Mentor, DDP Group, said, "It brings us great pride to present the India Cargo Awards 2025 and the Coffee Table Handbook on the logistics and warehousing sector, a curated visual and editoamong others.

and organisations whose collaboration and support made this event possible."

Jivisha Joshi Gangopadhyay, Deputy Secretary, International Cooperation, EoDB and Salt, and Sagar Kadu, Director, Logistics, DPIIT, Union Commerce and Industry Ministry, were the other govt dignitaries present. They also unveiled the Coffee Table Handbook. With categories recognising trailblazers, game changers, and future leaders, the Awards underscored the undeniable role the industry plays in driving India's economic growth.

THE CARGO LEGEND

J Krishnan

J Krishnan, Partner, S Natesa Iyer Logistics LLP, received the Gold Trophy

Awards like these play a role in building enthusiasm and drawing younger generation to take the industry forward. The air cargo and logistics industry must recognise, encourage, and inspire the new generation to work with passion and commitment. Logistics should be introduced as a subject right from middle school to create awareness and interest early on.

DDP TRAILBLAZER

Vikramjit Singh Ahluwalia

Vikramjit Singh Ahluwalia, Managing Director, Air Logistics Group India, received the Gold Trophy

44 It is a privilege to be part of the India Cargo Awards. It is an honour to attend such a prestigious gathering. India has progressed in the sector, though tariffs still need attention. The awards are not about personal achievements, but a recognition of the industry's collective effort.

DDP GAME CHANGER

Reshma Zaheer

Reshma Zaheer, COO, TT Logistics and Cargo, received the Gold Trophy

Heceiving the award has come as a big surprise for me. This recognition is not just about the award, but about the Indian air cargo industry. I feel proud to bring my own authenticity to the business. It has been such a wonderful journey. Being recognised means a lot to me.

The award is very special.

FACE OF THE FUTURE

Fletcher Samuel

Fletcher Samuel, Assistant General Manager, Senior Lead for Cargo Business, BIAL, received the Gold Trophy

Lt is an honour to be awarded at India Cargo Awards ceremony among the doyens of the industry. BIAL handled a throughput of 500,000 MT in the 2024–25 and has built capacity twice that of its volume. With more investments in the pipeline, BIAL is preparing to introduce enhanced capacity to meet future demands.
